Stone Scapes & Design Wins Awards at the Maryland Home and Garden Show

Timonium, Maryland - The first weekend of the 2011 Maryland Home & Garden Show saw the Timonium Fairgrounds bustling with home owners anxious to gather ideas for their next project. Some attended to look at the beautiful displays, others used the show to shop different vendors, and a few knew exactly who they were looking for from attending past shows. One booth that was a destination for many was the display created by Stone Scapes & Design (SSD). “We’ve been attending this show for a number of years now and it’s nice to hear from a potential customer that they remember us from previous years and want to come in to see what we’ve done this year. It makes all of our hard work readying our display worthwhile knowing that we made that type of impression on someone,” commented Kim Himmel-Morris, Vice President of Stone Scapes & Design. The display from SSD didn’t go unnoticed by the judges either. SSD captured first place prizes for Best Craftsmanship and Best in Division from the Maryland Home & Garden judges. The Maryland Home & Garden Show continues this weekend - March 11, 12, and 13, 2011.
